INNOV Chatbot Disclaimer - Beta Version

This disclaimer provides important information about the limitations and usage guidelines of the INNOV Chatbot. Please carefully review these terms before interacting with the chatbot.

General Information:

The INNOV Chatbot is currently in beta, representing an early development stage. It is designed to provide information based on INNOV's public documentation. While we strive for accuracy, we cannot guarantee the completeness or up-to-date nature of the information. Please consider chatbot responses as a starting point and verify details through linked public documentation.

User Responsibility:

Users of the INNOV Chatbot bear sole responsibility for their interactions and reliance on provided information. INNOV disclaims any responsibility for actions, losses, or damages resulting from using the chatbot.

Privacy and Security:

We prioritize the privacy and security of user information. This data is not used to train AI models. Users are advised not to share sensitive or personal information during interactions.

Beta Version Notice:

The INNOV Chatbot is a beta version, indicating ongoing development. It may experience occasional inaccuracies or technical issues. Users are encouraged to provide feedback to help improve the chatbot's performance.

Acceptance of Disclaimer:

By using the INNOV Chatbot (beta version), you acknowledge and accept the terms outlined in this disclaimer. If you disagree with any part, we recommend refraining from using the chatbot.
